

CLINICAL RESEARCH SOLUTIONS

A highly customized and personal approach sets us apart from other service providers and translates to increased customer success and long term partnerships with our clients.

About Us:

JANIX, founded in 2004, is an efficient, metric based, full service ophthalmology focused CRO with a global footprint of operations. Our mandate recognizes the need within the research & development industries for quality clinical services backed by experience, ICH/GCP training, protocol adherence, and leadership while providing significant cost advantages.

The flexibility of JANIX's service menu allows sponsors to combine our value added efforts with those of other contract organizations, independent contractors and in-house staff for the assembly of a functional team best suited for a particular clinical study.

flexible solutions for clinical trial needs

SURGICAL WET-LAB SOLUTIONS: We have the experience and SOPs to ensure proper training of MDs, the end users of product. We have the know-how in resourcing the biologic or synthetic materials needed for the training. Let us set up the wet-lab and dispose of the hazardous materials per local law. We've organized wet-labs in US and international settings.

METRICS SOLUTIONS: JANIX is a metric based service provider. "We Track It! We Chart It! We Graph It!"

INTERNATIONAL & EMERGING MARKET SOLUTIONS:

In addition to serving western countries (e.g., North America & EU), we also serve Africa, Middle East, and Asia Pacific, and we price our services based on local costing.

ENROLLMENT SOLUTIONS:

Through patient recruitment and retention strategies, JANIX provides the knowledge, implementation, and back-end support for sponsors to reach patient enrollment goals in a cost-effective and timely manner.

DATA MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS:

We own an EDC system. Other CROs license expensive software (e.g., Oracle® Clinical) then pass the additional costs onto their Client. We don't do that; at JANIX our low overhead equals Low Cost Data Management for our Clients.

WE'VE WORKED WITH A DIVERSE CUSTOMER BASE. HOW CAN WE HELP YOU?
